New Product Introduction

High Pistol Capacity, Simple Revolver-Like Operation--in New .40S&W

THE S&W DA-ONLY MODEL 4046

Your customers are already excited about the new .40S&W, and they're getting excited about Smith & Wesson's new family of double-action-only pistols. Well, the good news is, now they can have both in one package: the Model 4046.

It's the answer to many of your customers' questions, too--such as, "Which handgun should I buy for home and personal protection?" The 4046 is an excellent choice. It offers the simplicity of a revolver, the high capacity of a pistol and major caliber performance in a very manageable package. Naturally, the 4046 comes with S&W's built-in reliability and safety features, and gives your customer the convenience of easy-to-maintain stainless steel construction.

In answer to your final question, the Model 4046 will be available at your Smith & Wesson distributor in January, 1991. And yes, we'd suggest you order early to meet the demand this exciting new model will certainly create.
